WE were talking with a gentleman last Sunday, and, by the way, he is not a resident of Great Bend, when he remarked that he had never known a on the dot which marks the location of Great Bend, "There will be a great city

FARMERS tell us that the late heavy rains got away with a great number of Olympus above the hills: the pesky chinch bugs. Corn generally throughout the county is shooting up like a jack in a box and men have to employ their full force of workmen and implements to keep it cultivated.

Granting that we might make a failure, the expense in that contingency would be small to each man interested in the city; and if successful, it would be worth thousands.

THE excursion to Trinidad which passed through this place recently, carrying an immense number of people to see that city and the western country ought to remind the people of Great Bend that they should long before this have had something of this kind. People are anxious to come out and see a western town, and whenever an excursion is given there is sure to be a crowd. And they never fail to do some good. Let, say five hundred people come to Great Bend on an excursion and at the people of Kansas. It will put least from twenty to fifty will decide them as near Liverpool as they now to make it their homes. In addition are to New York. That is to say, property and thus become interested in the town. This paper several weeks ago urged that we have an excursion, but nothing was done. Is it not possible to organize something of the kind for this summer?

Mr. Cleveland represents a party which furnished more soldiers to quell the rebellion than did the republican party, and this action of the post at Topeka is a gratuitous insult to all those brave soldiers and sailors. With energy and perseverance Great Bend has the fairest prospects of any town in central Kansas. But if we lie idle expecting our wonderful natural advantages to win the battle we shall find some day that we were woefully mistaken. Now is the golden opportunity for us by pushing the advantage we already have to gain a lead over all competitors that they can never overcome. But we should now go to work. Other towns have had excursions, but we have never even tried to organize one. Other towns smaller than this are boring for coal or natural gas, but person to look over a map of Kansas we are still talking about the matter. without remarking, when his eyes rest In fact it seems to the many that we are neglecting many things that we should not, and now is the time to correct these evils.

From Kansas to Europe.

Readers of the Kansas Farmer will remember that this paper has advo-cated the opening of trade avenues direct between Kansas and Europe. and that when the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway company pur-chased a Texas railroad system and connected it with Kansas, our readers were encouraged to believe that the movement would prove to be of great value to the farmers of this state, for the reason that, as it then appeared to our minds, it was opening the great highway which we so much needed. It is asserted that the Santa Fe company is about to establish a weekly line of steamers between Galveston, Texas, and Liverpool, England. The company owns dock facilities at Galveston which will be improved for the purpose named.

This is a matter of importance to to this a much larger number will buy grain, flour, meat, etc., can be carried from Kansas to Liverpool at rates about the same as those charged for transportation of like articles to New York., and it will amount to a differ ance of 5 cents a bushel on wheat and 25 cents a barrel on flour. The distance between Topeka and New York City is nearly twice as great as that between Topeka and Galveston. will be found that Galveston, Texas, is very nearly on the line. This fact is an important one in relation to the trade of Kansas. - Kansas Farmer.

A Generous and Extensive Loan.

An earnest Christian lady makes the following offer to our readers : - "1 will loan, free of postal and all charges to such of your readers as will promise a careful reading and to pay return postage after reading it, a book which in interesting style shows the Bible to be a self-interpreter, and its teachings grandly harmonious, viewed in the light scientific skepticism. It is not dry, musty reading, but truly meat in due season' to the truth-hungry. The light of this precious little volume has made MAYOR Hewitt, of New York, has been giving the workmen some very plain and sensible advice. If there is one man in the United States who has the Bible a new book, a treasure, a mine of wealth, to many as well as my-self. And I feel that I cannot better use my means than in circulating this work by the thousand." Address
